

Annual Career Conference Switches Date to April 3

• THE UNIVERSITY'S SEVENTH annual Career Conference will be held April 3 in Lisner auditorium, Conference co-chairmen Ed Crump and Ray Garcia have announced.

The Conference was originally scheduled for March 27. Guest speakers, University deans and department heads and student leaders, will be guests of the Conference committee at a buffet supper in Lisner lounge preceding the opening session. The U. S. Army Band will open the conference with a half-hour concert in the auditorium preceding the keynote address.

Following the address, the audience will move to 23 career forums, where panels of representatives from specific vocational fields will present various aspects and job opportunities in their special areas.

Forums will be held in Monroe hall, the Hall of Government and Tompkins hall.

Three new forums on the program this year are foreign affairs, geology and economics-statistics. Following the panel presentations, student forum chairmen will moderate questions-and-answer periods.

After the forums have adjourned, coffee and doughnuts will be served in the Student Union.

The Career Conference, a Student Council Colonial Program, was initiated at the University in 1951. Its purpose is to aid students in their selection of careers and to give them direction in preparation for these careers.

Committee chairmen for the 1957 conference include Meredith Eagon, publicity; Warren Barley, facilities; Phyllis Charnley, program, and Kitti Maddock, Dick Cook and Earl Smith, forums. Kathy Blackburn and Lois Cobb are administrative assistants.

The chief objective of the program is to give commanders and potential commanders an understanding of the national resource situation, an intensive review of the principles of management, organization and human relation, and a opportunity to discuss current problems and to exchange ideas.

The program was initiated in 1951 as the "Commanders'

Next Year's Officers, 10 New Initiates Join Fraternity Honorary

• FRATERNITY MEN AND their dates filled the main ballroom of the Presidential Arms last Saturday night at the annual Inter-Fraternity Council Prom, which brought to a close the University's Greek Week activities.

I. F. C. officers for the coming year were announced at intermission. Jerry Roemer will serve as president; Eldon Miller, vice president; John Dano, secretary; Wyllie Barrow, treasurer; Bob Moore, social chairman, and John Harrison, publicity chairman.

The Sigma Chi scholarship trophy, presented annually to the fraternity making the greatest improvement in its academic average, went to Phi Alpha, whose chapter quality point index rose from 2.5 to 2.7. Paul Welch, president of Sigma Chi, made the presentations.

Greek Week opened February 21 with open houses at all on-campus fraternities. Off-campus houses were hosts February 23.

Nine fraternities groups competed in the annual I. F. C. Sing February 25, with Delta Tau Delta finishing in top position. Fraternity officers met in discussion forums Wednesday night in the University library.

Chapter presidents, vice presidents and I. F. C. delegates were guests of the I. F. C. at the Greek Week banquet Thursday night.

Overall chairman of Greek Week activities was Jim Lay, retiring social chairman of the I. F. C. Heading individual committees were Richard Nelson, Tom Topping, Bruce Mencher, Eugene Horowitz, Mr. Moore and Mr. Roemer.

• GATE AND KEY, fraternity men's honorary, tapped ten new members at the Inter-Fraternity Council Prom Saturday night.

The new initiates were Martin Zippner of Tau Epsilon Phi, Mike Tarnawa of Sigma Chi, Tom Beechy of Acacia, Mark Spies of Sigma Nu, Don Sebade of Phi Sigma Kappa, Paul Garner of Phi Alpha, Ronnie West of Phi Alpha, Jesse Ruben of Alpha Epsilon Pi and Warren Barley of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Richard W. Stephens, assistant professor of sociology, was tapped for honorary membership.

Gate and Key president, Bruce Mencher, conducted the tapping. Initiation ceremonies were held Saturday at the Phi Alpha fraternity house.

New members will be honored at a cocktail party Sunday afternoon at the Acacia fraternity house. Gate and Key will hold elections March 13.

The honorary recognizes fraternity men nominated by their own groups for outstanding work within their chapters and accepted by the society on the basis of their contributions to the fraternity system as a whole.

The national fraternity honorary was founded at the University in 1922. Tapping is held semi-annually at the Homecoming Dance in the fall and the I.F.C. Prom in the spring.

Serving with Mr. Mencher as officers of the University chapter this semester were Jim Biller, vice president; Roy Dennis, secretary; Laurence Locke, treasurer; Paul Welch, social chairman, and Walter Jaenicke, publicity chairman.

Faculty adviser is Dr. Donald B. Thompson, associate professor of European history.

The constitution of the new group has been approved by the Student Council and the Student Life Committee. Mr. Papp acted as spokesman for the group in the formative stages of its development.

"The need of some students for an outlet for intelligent discussion of world events and the alarming apathy of college students toward the forces threatening the very existence of democracy were among the reasons for starting the club," Mr. Papp said last week.

"The club discussions will be based on academic reasoning. Occasionally, club meetings will include lectures and films," he continued.

The current events group will hold its next meeting at 8 p.m., Thursday at a place to be announced.

ENGINEERS and SCIENTISTS

*we'll be on the campus
March 19
to discuss your future at Boeing*

...where you can rise to the top

Right now you're in the process of making one of the most important decisions of your life.

Your decision is important to us, too, because we are interested in engineers and scientists who want to get ahead. We're coming to the campus to give you the facts you need to judge whether Boeing can help you reach the goal you have in mind.

The fact that Boeing is an "engineers' company" is important to your success. At Boeing, you'd work with, and for, engineers—men who talk your language, understand and appreciate your work.

Boeing encourages graduate study, reimbursing full tuition and fees, plus an additional amount for incidentals. Every six months, each Boeing engineer is given a merit review—a personal opportunity for recognition and advancement. The company's steady, rapid growth assures plenty of opportunities to move ahead. At Boeing, engineers hold positions right to the top.

Another advantage: Boeing assignments are interesting. You'll work on such famous projects as the 707, America's first jet transport; the intercontinental B-52, the nation's principal long-range jet bomber; the supersonic BOMARC guided missile, and top-secret programs that probe beyond the frontiers of the known. At Boeing, you'll be in a young, expanding industry, one with its major growth still ahead.

So whether you plan a career in civil, mechanical, electrical, aeronautical or industrial engineering, physics or mathematics (or related fields), drop in for a person-to-person discussion about your future at Boeing.

Prexy Talks To Reserves

• THE NATION'S SECURITY depends on the strength and readiness of its reserve military forces, University President Cloyd H. Marvin said last Thursday night.

Dr. Marvin spoke to more than 1,000 Reserve officers and hundreds of other guests at a special Army Reserve Assembly in Lisner auditorium.

During the Assembly he presented distinguished service citations from the Reserve Officers' association to Col. Elbridge Colby, USA Ret., executive officer of the University's department of journalism and Brig General Don C. Faith, USA, Ret., director of veteran's education and men's activities.

Dr. Colby was honored for his "significant achievements as an educator, administrator and youth counselor."

Dr. Faith was cited principally for administering with "conspicuous success" the scholastic affairs of the more than 20,000 veterans who have been enrolled at the University since 1948.

Maj. Gen. Ulysses S. Grant, III, USA Ret., a University trustee, delivered a lecture on the evolution of American military strategy.

Dr. Colby retired from the Army in 1948, after 30 years of active service. Prior to World War II he was professor of military science and tactics at the University of Vermont. An active member of Phi Beta Kappa, he is

Student Apathy

• WAKE UP, JUNIOR CLASS!

The general apathy of the junior class has broken out during these past few weeks, with the result that only four students, two juniors and two sophomores, had petitioned for the chairmanships of Campus Combo and the Student Liaison committee as of last Friday.

More than once during the past year, committee chairmanships have had to be filled by people in the sophomore class. We believe that the chairmanships should be filled by juniors and seniors, preferably the latter. Sophomores do not have the experience that is necessary to do a good job. The way for them to get this experience is to work under juniors and seniors on the committees.

However, the apathy of the students should not be put altogether on the juniors, but on the student body as a whole. Perhaps it is the fault of the senior class for not pushing the juniors into activities. The juniors have not been taking their share of responsibility while the freshmen and sophomores are still floundering around.

The committee chairmanships are not the only places where the disease has hit. The pep rallies were called off because there was very little participation. Although we had the best football team in the history of the school, there still were not the crowds at Griffith Stadium that there should have been.

Another event that was hurt by student apathy was the Freshman Activities Fair. One possible reason why there was a poor turnout is that students lack the desire to get into activities. The Fair is by far the best way to break into activities since all the main activities are represented.

There is nothing more that we can say. It is up to the juniors in particular, and the student body in general, to put to an end the existing apathy.

Choreographers Plan Voodoo Act and Military Ball for Dance Concert

by Gregg Mayer

• WITH THE SOUND of native drums serving as an inspiring background, the members of the Dance Production groups are rehearsing for the annual spring concert. Scheduled for the 22nd and 23rd of this month, the recital will include studies choreographed by Elizabeth Burtner, Diane Gaumer and Elizabeth Appleton.

As an instructor of dance, Miss Burtner has utilized the technique of teachers such as Martha Graham, Charles Weidman, and Hanya Holm; she has studied with these and many other fine artists. Currently she is a performing member of Dance Playhouse concert group. Of her dancing, Paul Hume of the Washington Post and Times Herald has said: "Her dancing has real authority and idiomatic appearance."

For this concert, Miss Burtner has choreographed a new dance—"Madeline." It is based on the charming tale by Bemelmans and will include the stories of two books, one of which will go on sale this month. Evelyn Lohoefer is composing original piano music for the work, which will be performed by nine dancers.

"Quadrille," another dance by Miss Burtner, is based on dances which were popular in Europe in the late 18th and 19th centuries. It will be performed by six couples to the music of Johann Strauss.

Her third offering is "Caribbean Holiday—on Tour." The stage of the tour represented in this program will be Haiti and Trinidad. This dance was a part of the 1956 summer carnival and is based on an ancient African cult of Voodoo. The rhythms are fascinating, filled with the cries and beats of the symbolic rituals. Steve Luke has also helped to choreograph this number with Miss Burtner.

Not only a dancer, Miss Burtner has taught horseback riding at the University for which she has staged many impressive shows. Besides her taste for the outdoors she professes a fondness for all the arts and declares, "I love conversation—good conversation."

Another important personality in the mechanism of the dance groups is Diane Gaumer. Mrs. Gaumer, an instructor in physical education and dance, came to the University in the fall of 1956. A native of Massachusetts, she attended Maryland University and was a member of the dance faculty at Guilford College in North Carolina and Macmurray College in Illinois. In addition to teaching fundamentals of modern dance to all freshman women students, Mrs. Gaumer teaches the intermediate modern dance group and has choreographed one dance for the concert. This work is based on an idea from the book The Great Chain of Life, by Joseph Krutch, the theme being the eternal question of Man: Who am I? In one's life the answer is often never found. The question then becomes: What am I like? This thought is developed in three studies—a god, a machine and an animal.

Though she tries to devote as much time as possible to reading, choreographing, performing, painting or listening to good music, Mrs. Gaumer spends many of her hours with her five year old son, Mark. He is a constant source of humor, and he shows a lively interest in dance and music.

Buff and Blue Change Shade

by Bunny Miller

• IS IT STILL Buff and Blue? Yes—but now the shade's new!

That's right. The University colors are now standardized. Never again will University fans wave varied colors of Buff and Blue to cheer on the teams. Never again will students shake their heads wondering what color paint or poster paper to buy to decorate floats and house displays.

It is official—John Russell Mason, Curator of Art and Librarian of the University Library, has announced the standardized shades of Buff and Blue. Analyzed as to the hue, value and chroma, the new colors have now been scientifically set down and recorded.

Washington's Uniform

The history of our University's colors is steeped in tradition. In 1904 the colors were chosen from the buff and blue of George Washington's uniform at the National Museum. However, 53 years of variations in the historically adopted colors developed a multi-shaded use of buff and blue. Finally, in 1956 Mr. Mason contacted the Color Association of the United States, Inc. and they sent him silk samples of buff and blue copied from the original continental uniform worn by George Washington. The uniform was worn when General Washington resigned as Commander-in-Chief of the Continental Army at Annapolis, in 1783. The Color Association also presented the University with a copy of the very rare brochure of colonial colors.

The silk samples were then submitted to the Munsell Color Company, Inc. for analysis. The Munsell Company arranged the three attributes of color into orderly steps, so that the attributes could be analyzed and described accurately.

Here To Stay

Now all students can proudly proclaim their colors with firmness and certainty—the Buff and Blue is here to stay.

Can You Define The 'Desperate Hours'?

• SAN FRANCISCO, CALIF. (ACP)—These definitions from editorial page of the Daily Californian:

Blue Book—Eight or 16 pages of blank paper in which answers are written before and during examinations.

Cramming—The desperate hours.

Out—Being where your class isn't when it is.

Finals—Hell Week at the wrong end of the semester.

'Flunk Students Club' Exposed!

• TROY, NEW YORK (ACP)—A columnist known only as "Polly" has revealed the astounding results of an investigation in a recent issue of the Rensselaer Polytechnic:

"For a long time, Polly has suspected the presence of a select group among the faculty who have banded together into a 'Flunk Students Club.' From my experience with this group I have cunningly deduced the by-laws of this fantastic fraternity. For the benefit of the entire student body, Polly fearlessly (and anonymously) presents them here:

1. Test questions on material in the main part of the text or given in lecture are too easy. Use items from footnotes, references, and from books listed in the bibliography for all your quizzes.

2. Give tests either twice a term or twice a week. Announcing quizzes ahead of time is utter foolishness. You'll never flunk them that way.

3. Allot the students about half the time it would take you to do the test. Put the hardest question first and remember it's the answer that counts.

4. Unless you have a class of all "A" students (somebody has to flunk!) never use a curve for marking. It's a sign of weakness.

5. Last but definitely not least—remember our sacred motto: "They're here to work!"

by Hester Heale

• AS I STRAIN AWAY at my typewriter strains of discord from Sorority hall remind all of the closeness of the Pan Hel Sing. Why do people insist on practicing before they sound good?

But, oh a happier note, wasn't the IFC Sing good this year? All the groups sounded good, and the Delts, with their reliable combination of "Delta Shelter" and a spiritual, came through for another, very deserved, win. Afterwards, the Delts played host to all of G Street. Skip Maraney and Jerry Roemer led the TKE group, and Chuck Forbes and a contingent of Phi Sigs were much in evidence. Phi Alpha Bruce Mencher, winner of the Best Conductor cup, fulfilled chugging honors.

The I. F. C. Prom last Saturday night at the Presidential Arms was the highlight of the week. The Delts, still very much in evidence, included Pi Phi Petita Lassalle and Dick Jamborski, KKG Bobby Holland and Scot Shotwell, Theta Pat Pierson and Chuck Johnson, boy singer; DG Mary Ann Alderson and Bill Medina, Lee Harley, Tri Delt transfer, and Pete Dyer, Kappa Sara Moses and Tom Topping, Ann Leoni, Displaced Greek, and John Fisher, Theta Barbara Baldauf and Ray Taranto, Pi Phi Lynn Ray and Tom Smith, Betty Nicodemus and Mike Gall, and KAT Carol Hollett and Roger Hart.

Sigma Nu's had a lively cocktail party before the dance. Among those who made their way to the dance were Sigma Nu Girl Gail Shaver, Theta, and Dennis Bennett, Pi Phi Nancy Wilson and Gene Lambert, Theta Dixie Baridon and Bruce Russell, Rosemary Caputo and Al Kopf, Kappa Delt Barbara Nichols and Dale Hudelson, Lois Cobb and Ray Garcia, DG Sally Filipovitch and Larry Cloupek, and Theta Carolyn Rowe and Jay Miller.

Acacians also held a cocktail party and turned out in high spirits for the dance. Chi O Jo Ann Posladek, Acacia's Sweetheart, and Dick Nelson, Pi Phi Betty Gignilliat and Ed Felegy, Sigma Kappa Julie Klesling and Gary Banks, Chi O Linda Feldman and Chuck Downs and KD Barbara Fabian and Roger Black were in attendance.

SPE blasted away in usual fashion—party before and party after. SK Ellie Ready, with her new sparkler, and The Pup, Karen Floyd and Dave Glendenning, Sigrid Weeks and Wade Algee, Sally Griffith and Bob Olson, Plum Synon and Marcel Platt, DZ Toni Yim and Omar Uphoff were all very much there.

Up at the Kappa Sig house, the cocktail party was given the brothers by the pledges (always knew pledges were good for something). Merry parties included Chi O Jan Swearinger and Roy Dennis, Sue Hadley and Erni Betts, Theta Peggy Stubbs and Bill Van Fleet, and ADPI Mel Martin and Joe Karter.

Seen at the Phi Alpha table were ADPI Etta Ridgely and Irwin Ruben, Sweetheart Phyllis Grossman and Ronnie West, plus many more.

But now I come to a sad tale of the week end—the sad saga of Pikes Al Schnieder, Jack Purinton and Bob Nolte. Seems these boys thought that they would triple for the dance, but the borrowed car and its ideas on the matter were something they had not counted on. Anyway, to make a short story long, they ran out of gas, missed their dinner date at Elaine Oshinski's, got picked up on a speeding charge, had to pay a fine, plus parking fines of the owner, then got lost, got stalled. But true Pike persistence came through and they finally made their way to the dance, at just a little past 11.

Getting the new members of Gate and Key off to a good start, in good Gate and Key tradition, Gate and Key will hold its dinner dance party at the Acacia House next Sunday night.

Student Council members Joe Hince, Ray Garcia and Tom Smith chaperoned by Nancy Wilson and Doris Rosenberg, went to Hood College over the weekend for a convention. Made a great sensation when they wandered inadvertently into the dining room of the all-girls school.

Hark, news of more doings over the founder's birthday! Must have been a mass exodus out of town, TEP's to Baltimore and Phi Alpha's to Philadelphia.

Strange to say, chaps. I have run out of space before running out of copy. First time this year. Will be back next week with pinings, engagements, etc. And, I hope, more copy!

"I'D LIKE SOME OF YOU TO THINK OF THIS TERM PAPER DUE FRIDAY AS A DO-IT-YOURSELF PROJECT."

Hatchet Editor Paul Welch Recalls Activities Of Past 4 Years At G. W.

by Viris Cromer

• WHEN GRADUATION ROLLS around again this June, one of the most active men on campus will go the way of most students and seal his collegiate career with the traditional piece of sheepskin. Actually it won't really be good-bye to his Alma Mater for Paul Welch, because Paul will simply be advancing to the University's Law School.

But of course graduate work is never quite the same as the first four years. Paul realizes that that subtle something which makes up the esprit of college will be lacking in the years ahead at Stockton Hall. "It's gone too quick," is the way he puts it. But if it has gone too quickly, it has gone just as busily, too. The latter statement is rather self-elaborative when one regards the long and impressive list of activities which will appear after the name of Paul Welch in this year's CHERRY TREE. Former sports editor and present member of the Board of Editors of the HATCHET, president of Sigma Chi, Gate and Key social chairman, Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities, Old Men, Student Handbook staff, and Pi Delta Epsilon (national journalism honorary)—these activities comprise the long list of extra-curricular interests of Paul Welch.

Two-Way Proposition

Paul has a philosophy about extra-curricular endeavors, one which he is glad to expound. Activities, he feels, can be exasperating since they are so time consuming. For instance, the sports editor of the HATCHET has to devote most of a good Sunday afternoon to the paper, but "although you scream about it, there are a lot of benefits from working with something like this." There are "so many extra-curricular activities, you can help them a lot by putting yourself into them." And this is a two-way proposition for "you pick up a lot of experience," he added. All in all, it's not difficult to see that Paul considers his activities here among the most worthwhile experiences of his collegiate career.

Pinned To Sweetheart

Now there are different types of extra-curricular activity, and not all of them have to do with clubs. Girls can also be considered a sort of extra-curricular interest. Along this line, Paul is pinned to the ever-popular "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi" — Kappa Phyllis Charnley.

The basic realities of college, classes and planning a career are also of prime importance to Paul. An accounting major, he plans to go into Tax Law eventually. He thinks that his journalistic experiences will be of value to him since he is interested in working for a tax magazine sometime in the future.

Future Looks Good

And with taxes being what they are nowadays, Paul should go far in his chosen field!

Presentation of the Lacy Garter, awarded annually by Gate and Key, fraternity men's honorary, to an outstanding University woman, was postponed unit later in the semester.

And natural gas is one of the fastest growing industries in the U.S.

This growth combination means many rewarding careers ahead for young men with ideas.

Variety in your job, promotion from within, an individualized training program—tailored to fit you—and liberal employee benefits, are some of the things Columbia Gas offers.

Also a student of Martha Graham is Betty Appleton, a graduate student at the University. Betty graduated from the drama department of the High School of Performing Arts in New York City and followed the course of dance at Bennington College. Transferring to City College, she choreographed the dancing for the school's theatre workshop.

Mrs. Appleton's contribution to the spring concert is entitled "Folk Suite," and uses the courtship theme. Working to the music of Pete Seeger's "Goofing Off Suite," she is choreographing the dance for six people and dancing a solo to "Poor Boy." In this solo, Betty is experimenting with the idea of playing the guitar and dancing.

This young artist has been married since June to a fellow New Yorker who works as a foreign service officer. Living in Arlington, she takes dance classes at the University.

FASTER, FASTER!

Pick up your paper every morning and what do you read? "CRISIS IN HIGHER EDUCATION." That's what you read: "ENROLLMENT SPIRALLING UPWARD—DESPERATE NEED FOR MORE CLASSROOMS, MORE TEACHERS." But classrooms, alas, do not spring up like mushrooms, nor teachers like mayflies. So what must we do while we build more classrooms, train more teachers? We must get better use out of the classrooms and teachers we now have. That's what we must do.

This column, normally a vehicle of good-humored foolery, of joy that wrinkled care derides, of laughter holding both his sides, will today forsake levity to examine the crisis in higher education. My sponsors, the makers of Philip Morris Cigarettes, as Bonnie a bunch of tycoons as you will see in a month of Sundays, have given cheerful consent to this departure. Oh, splendid chaps they are, the makers of Philip Morris! Oh, darlin' types they are, fond of home, mother, porridge, the Constitution, and country fiddling! Twinkly and engaging they are, jaunty and sociable, roguish and winsome, as full of joy, as packed with pleasure, as brimming with natural goodness, as loaded with felicity as the cigarettes they bring you in two convenient sizes—regular in the handy snap-open pack, and new long-size in a crushproof flip-top box—both available at moderate cost from your favorite tobacconist. Light one now. Light either end. No filter cigarette can make that statement.

Let us then, with the gracious connivance of the makers of Philip Morris—Oh, splendid chaps! Oh, gracious connivers!—take up the terribly vexing question of how we can turn out more graduates with campus facilities as they now exist.

The answer can be given in one word: speedup! Speed up the educational process. Streamline courses. Eliminate frills. Sharpen. Shorten. Quicken.

Following is a list of courses with suggested methods to speed up each one.

PHYSICS—Eliminate slow neutrons.

PSYCH LAB—Tilt the mazes downhill. The white mice will run much faster.

ENGINEERING—Make slide rules half as long.

MUSIC—Change all tempo to allegro. (A collateral benefit to be gained from this suggestion is that once you speed up waltz time, campus proms will all be over by 10 p.m. With students going home so early, romance will languish and marriage counselors can be transferred to the buildings and grounds department. Also, housing now used for married students can be returned to the school of animal husbandry.)

ALGEBRA—If "x" always equals 24, much time-consuming computation can be eliminated.

LANGUAGES—Teach all language courses in English.

DENTISTRY—Skip baby teeth. They fall out anyhow.

POETRY—Amalgamate the classics. Like this:

*Hail to thee, blithe spirit
Shoot if you must this old gray head
You ain't nothin' but a hound dog
Smiling the boy fell dead.*

You see how simple it is? Perhaps you have some speedup ideas of your own. If so, I'll thank you to keep them to yourselves.

© Max Shulman, 1957

The makers of Philip Morris have no interest in any speedup. We age our fine tobacco slow and easy. And that's the way it smokes—slow and easy—a natural smoke.

G. W. Drops Close Game To West Va.

by Bob Lapman

• WEST VIRGINIA squeezed by George Washington, 77-75, in the finale for both teams and finished the season undefeated in 12 Southern Conference games.

Without Hot Rod Hundly the Mountaineers had it rough as the Colonials jumped into a nine-point lead in the first half. At the half, however, the Mountaineers drew to within one point, as the Buff led 35-34 at intermission.

The second half was a different story with the Mountaineers rebounding and hitting on a wide variety of shots. Bob Smith, Joey Gardner and Vincent kicked in with key baskets to keep West Virginia ahead of the surging Colonials.

Bucky MacDonald kept the Buff within striking distance by sending sets from all over the court. He was the game's high scorer with 21 points.

With one minute left to play and West Virginia leading 77-73, Gene Guarilia drove in to score a goal and put G. W. only two points behind, but the Mountaineers kept control of the ball for the remainder of the game.

Lloyd Sherrar led the Mountaineers with 20 points.

Earlier this week, G. W. took a 82-63 beating from VPI as the to evaluate the performances of many of the players and it will take some time before a permanent team can be established.

Even though spring practice is supposed to be a period to stress fundamentals and the '57 season is a long way off, it's a sure bet that the coaching staff is trying to fit all the little pieces into place.

Only four men are now considered "B" team players—tackles Carl Zaleski and Bill Tomcykowski, quarterback Jack Henzes, and halfback Mike Ennis. Those alternating with the "B" team and showing signs of promise are "Boots" Busky, Ron DeMelfi, Duane Harkleroad, Bill Smythe, and Adolph Brazensky.

Colonial Basketball Scoring Averages

• GENE GUARILIA is the leading scorer on the Colonial varsity this year. The 6-foot, 6-inch sophomore center has scored 410 points in 24 games for an average of 17.1 points a contest.

Guarilia made 41 per cent of his field goals and 72.2 per cent of his free throws. In addition, he is the leading rebounder with an average of 16.8 a game. Gene was named to THE WASHINGTON POST'S All Area First Team at center and second team All-Southern Conference.

Bill Telasky has the best free throw average, making 73.7 of his foul shots. John Jolly is the top goal maker with a 48.8 field goal average.

Four of the five starters on the Colonial Five ended with a 40 per cent average or better on field goal attempts. Guarilia has 41.0; Telasky, 40.0; McDonald, 40.6, and Jolly 48.8. Ron Matalavage, the other starter, has a 35.6 completion average.

As a team the Colonials averaged just under 40 per cent, while their opponents connected on 40 or better.

Rifle Team Takes Expert Class In Md. State Meet

• G. W.'s RIFLE TEAM reached its peak form of the season a week ago Sunday at College Park as it won the team match in the Maryland State Championship sponsored by the U. S. Aggies.

The Colonials, firing in the expert class, were first with 1123 points while Fort Belvoir finished second with 1115.

Leading G. W. as usual was Paul Nordquist who fired his customary 287 score. Following him were Courtney Schlosser, the tournament this year, including some of the finest shooters in the country.

Arthur Cook, who fired in two previous Olympics and was the Grand Aggregate winner of the tournament last year, once again took top honors.

Other outstanding performers were Allen Luke, W. G. McAuliffe, members of several international teams, and Roy Oster, one of the best shooters in the East.

Women's Rifle

• THE WOMEN'S Rifle team lost their annual shoulder-to-shoulder match with Drexel Tech, 965-958, last week in Philadelphia. Helen Skopie was high scorer with 198; following Helen in scoring was Nadya Kayaloff, Betty Ross, Nancy Head, Joan Cockey, Joanne Holler and Marcia Shellabarger in that order. The team now has won two matches and has lost two.

281; Helen Skopie, 279, and Steve Bourland, 276.

Nordquist had a perfect score in the prone—100, a 98 kneeling and a 89 standing to give him the top score of 287.

This tournament is the second largest gallery (indoor) tournament in the United States. Each participating team is allowed to enter only four members to fire and all four scores count. Over 200 competitors entered

Rebels, Jersians Capture Intramural Playoff Games

by Bob Lapman

• INDEPENDENT TEAMS WON the opening games of the intramural basketball playoffs as the Rebels nipped Sigma Chi, 47-43, and the Jersians crushed SAE, 52-38.

The Rebels, with Bo Austin and Stan Walowac chipping in with 13 points apiece, came from behind in the final two minutes to beat Sigma Chi.

Austin personally took charge of the Rebels' offense as he scored all of his 13 points in the last half, with nine of them coming in the third quarter.

Neither team led by more than three or four points as the lead kept changing hands.

Rebels Lead

The Rebels led at halftime 15-14, but in the fourth quarter Sigma Chi came from behind to take a four point lead, 33-29.

With two minutes remaining to be played, the Rebels caught up to Sigma Chi and went on to win. The rally was spearheaded by Walowac and Austin who have been the mainstays of the Rebels all season.

Dave Liddick of Sigma Chi led all scorers with 14 points.

Sigma Chi outscored the Rebels from the foul-line, 15-7, but the Rebels had the all-important edge from the floor, 20-14.

Jersians Roll

The Jersians, last year's Intramural basketball champions, continued their dominance over the league as they rolled to an easy 14 point victory over SAE.

Both teams started slow as the Jersians took a slim lead, 7-5 at the end of the first quarter. The pace quickened, however, with the Jersians increasing their margin to a 20-15 advantage.

Gino D'Ambrosia starred for the Jersians as he scored 17 points, most of them coming on one-hand jump shots.

Franny Gleason, SAE's top scorer, collected four personal fouls in the first half, but played the rest of the game without fouling out.

Hot Third Period

The Jersians began to roll in the third quarter as they jumped into a 36-29 lead, and then outscored the SAEs by seven points to acquire their 14 point margin of victory.

The Jersians dominated all statistics. They outshot the SAEs 21-18 from the floor and had a 10-2 advantage from the free throw line.

Dick Boneski hit for 14 points for the Jersians, while Eldon Miller and Gleason netted 12 and 11 points respectively for SAE.

Third Game Wednesday

'Mural Notes: The third game of the playoffs will take place on Wednesday night at 9:00 between the Med Jrs. and Phi Sigma Kappa . . . All participants in wrestling and boxing are reminded to get their physical examinations at the Student Health Center any week day before 1:00 p.m.

Wrestling will take place this Friday night at the Gym . . . Next week the HATCHET will pick all-star teams from each league

G. W. Riflers Place Second

by Charles Tulle

• THE UNIVERSITY RIFLE TEAM, minus its top scorer Paul Nordquist, placed second in a triangular meet with Washington & Lee and William & Mary last week at Lexington.

Washington & Lee was first with 1335 points while G. W. finished only two points behind, 1333.

William & Mary came in third with 1329.

Had Nordquist, who has a 287 average, been able to attend, the outcome of the meet might have been different.

Coach Jim Feula was pleased with Steve Bourland who led the scorers with 282. Other scores were Courtney Schlosser—276, Helen Skopic—271, James Miles—268, and Al Vasquez—236.

Foul Shooting

All fraternities are reminded to get the foul shooting in on time . . . The crystal ball sees the Med Jrs. by a wide margin over Phi Sigma Kappa . . . The Jersians, led by Gino D'Ambrosio and Dick Boneski, look like a good bet to repeat as Intramural Basketball Champions.

Change Gives Colonials Very Speedy Backfield

by Bill DeLa Vergne

• A MAJOR CHANGE in the G. W. backfield will give the 1937 Colonial football team one of the fastest backfield combinations in many a year.

Dick Claypool and Ted Colna are the two men involved in the big change.

Claypool, who was switched from fullback to halfback last year, is going to the full-back slot again and Colna is moving from the "B" to "A" team to take over the vacated halfback position. These two, plus Mike Sommer and Ray Looney, all of whom can do the century close to the 10 second mark, will comprise the "A" team backfield.

The usual Washington weather has prevented Coach Bo Sherman from getting a good look at his drawing board plans. Rain and snow last week postponed some of the practice and left the Frog Island field in too sloppy a condition for the scheduled Saturday scrimmage.

Coach Sherman has created an

With the loss of graduating Paul Thompson, the right end position seems to be a tossup between either Franny Gleason, Don Herman, or Jack Kesock. Only Bill Berry appears assured of an "A" team end berth.

At present the players running with the "A" team are guards Marion Hoar and Bob Frulla, tackles Ed Rutsch and Bob Jewett, ends Bill Berry and a shuttle system between Gleason, Herman and Kesock, center Shorty Varley, quarterback Ray Looney, full-back Dick Claypool, and halfbacks Mike Sommer and Ted Colna.

The "B" team has many question marks. Coach Sherman and assistants Hanken, Feula and Kalen have not had sufficient time
